ANNUAL REPORT

2025

Middle Branch of the Swift River, New Salem, MA

2025 in Review

Strong Foundations, New Momentum

David McGlinchey
Executive Director

I joined Mass Rivers in January, so the great progress in this report reflects work that happened before I arrived. It is also exactly what made me want this job.

Under Julia Blatt's 16-years of leadership, Mass Rivers grew to become a respected and effective voice in state water policy conversations, trusted by legislators, government agencies, and NGO partners to bring a clear, credible statewide perspective to complex issues. That reputation has been clear to me since I arrived, and shows up throughout this report.

In 2025, Mass Rivers helped move the Drought Bill forward, shaped key regulatory decisions, and brought together a coalition of organizations to advance shared priorities. We engaged consistently in the State House and in agency processes, and we made sure rivers and water were a part of the broad conversations about climate resilience, ecological restoration, infrastructure, and public health.

Since I arrived, I have been struck by how much of this work is built on trust and relationships. Mass Rivers plays an important role as a connector — connecting organizations across the state, and building coordinated advocacy. That's not easy to build, and it's not easy to sustain, but it is critically important.

2025 also marked a major milestone with the success of the Water Future Fund. Surpassing the $1.3 million goal is a reflection of real confidence that supporters have in this organization and its direction. It creates a strong foundation for the important work that comes next.

We are fortunate to live in Massachusetts, where there are still real opportunities at the state level to make meaningful progress on water and climate policy. But that progress doesn't happen on its own. It requires sustained focus and a strong coalition.

Mass Rivers is well positioned for that work. My focus now is on building on the momentum reflected here in these pages. We will continue to strengthen our policy impact, deepen our relationships across the state, and make sure we are involved in the important water conversations that will shape our future.

Thank you to all of you who made this work possible in 2025.

Our Achievements

50 meetings with legislators from across the state at our Lobby for the Rivers Day.

Advanced our top legislative priority, the Drought Bill

We organized members and partners to move the drought bill through the Senate Environment and Natural Resources Committee. We will continue to advocate for its passage before the end of this two-year legislative session.

Delivered expert input and testimony on 3 Water Management Act draft permits, the Residual Designation Authority permit, the MA MS4 Permit, MEPA regulations, two major sets of federal regulations, and 17 legislative actions, including the Environmental Bond Bill.

Pursued Nature For All

Alongside over 100 organizations, we supported the Nature for Massachusetts campaign in two ways: urging the State Legislature to pass the related bill and helping collect over 75,000 signatures to pass the first phase of the ballot Initiative for the November 2026 ballot.

Advocated for critical funding

Despite a tough budget year, we helped hold budgets steady and avoid dramatic reductions in state agency programs that protect our rivers, improve climate resilience, environmental quality, and public health and safety.

750+

Engaged over 750 people, representing 56% of MA municipalities, via our Dam Busters program.

Visited partners in Western MA

to learn about the historical and present-day environmental justice problems associated with rivers in the area and to engage with member organizations in the region.

Mass Rivers Connects

Led peer-to-peer “Mass Rivers Connects” virtual meetings focused on executive leadership, science, environmental justice, and water policy.

Rainwater Readiness

Provided technical assistance on stormwater management to nearly 100 participants through our Rainwater Readiness program.

30+

Represented rivers on 30+ committees, commissions, task forces, and advisory groups.

Brought together organizations and state and federal leadership including a meeting with the MassDEP Commissioner, DFG Commissioner, and EEA Undersecretary, and a meeting with the new EPA Regional Administrator for Region 1.

Protect What Connects Us

Water Future Fund

Thank you! All 8,000 miles of rivers across Massachusetts will be better protected thanks to the generosity of all who contributed to help reach, and surpass, our Water Future Fund goal.

Mass Rivers Alliance is sustained by real people like you who believe in the power of collective, statewide action to safeguard our rivers, and the communities they connect.

Because of you, the Water Future Fund will ensure Mass Rivers can accelerate our work to bring resources to the rivers, catalyze policy change, and increase the capacity of our members and allies. Thank you for standing with us and for the future you are helping create for our rivers.

"We have been supporters of Mass Rivers almost since its birth. The vision of its founders was to organize and amplify the myriad groups across the Commonwealth who were trying to protect their local rivers. Over the past 15+ years we have watched Mass Rivers blossom into an unparalleled advocate for river protection.

We could not be more proud of the powerful and effective institution Mass Rivers has become. We hope that the Water Future Fund will ensure its continued success because our rivers need Mass Rivers to stay healthy and strong."

"I was drawn to the Rivers Alliance because there needs to be a voice for the rivers. They are at the core of so much which is fundamental to our lives: not merely recreation, but also the health of both our environment and our economy."
